More than a business hotel

What makes the Akali Hotel special is the mix of world-class services and local hospitality. This is the only hotel in its class in the middle of Chania that has a swimming pool, as well as the only central one with dedicated conference rooms, making it very popular with vacationers and businesspeople alike.

At the Akali, Mediterranean hospitality is enhanced by the very generous breakfast buffet that offers continental favorites and a delicious variety of Cretan breakfast specialties. The hotel's public spaces are embellished with local stone, traditional pieces of furniture and a distinct Cretan design element that adds personality and character. Yet the best part of this experience is that the Akali is only a few minutes' walk from the old harbor of Chania, one of the most beautiful harbors in the country, and just a drive away from some of the most amazing beaches in the world. Welcome to the Akali!
